A brief history of TRAMECH

The first TRAMECH was held in Marseille, France, in 2000. A large number of chemists from the Mediterranean countries and further afield world participated and shared their ideas with great enthusiasm. They appreciated the high quality and interactive nature of this Colloquium. The TRAMECH IX follows on from:

TRAMECH VIII (Antalya, Turkey) 2015

TRAMECH VI (Tunis, Tunisia) 2009
TRAMECH V (Tafila, Jordan) 2007
TRAMECH IV (Aveiro, Portugal) 2006
TRAMECH III (Marrakech, Morocco) 2004
TRAMECH II (Bari, Italy) 2002
TRAMECH I (Marseille, France) 2000

Main goals of TRAMECH IX

The main goals of TRAMECH IX are:

- Presenting the latest research carried out in the field of heterocyclic chemistry by scientists and students from universities in the Mediterranean countries and all over the world
- Providing opportunities for the delegates to exchange new ideas and application experiences
- Establishing research relations and finding global partners for future collaboration

The scientific program of TRAMECH IX will consist of:

- Plenary and Invited lectures
- Short oral communications
- Posters will be accepted until the capacity is reached
- Round table

The final program will be announced before October 1, 2017.
